EASY RUN

Running at a speed at which talking proves easy.

STEADY RUN

Running at a moderate speed which makes talking difficult.

INTERVAL RUN

Short, intense efforts followed by equal or slightly longer recovery time. For example, after a warm up, run hard for two minutes, followed by two or three minutes of easy jogging or walking to catch your breath. It should be difficult to talk during your rests from running.

THRESHOLD RUN

Running at a pace where lactate does not accumulate significantly in the blood during the workout, but instead stays at a constant level. Lactate -"Baking" in muscles during an intense run. It will be impossible to talk.

FARTLEK

Fartlek training is simply defined as periods of fast running intermingled with periods of slower running. For some people, this could be a mix of jogging and sprinting, but for beginners it could be walking with jogging sections added in whenever possible. It should be difficult to talk during your rest from running.

MARATHON PACE TIME

Race speed that you able to maintain throughout your participation in the event.
